

Sharp Things

Ouch! It hurts when you cut yourself. There are lots of things in your home that are sharp. You have to be careful and make sure they are put away somewhere safe.

These can be dangerous!

Watch out for:

- sharp things left out around the house, like knives, scissors, razors, pins and needles
- broken glass - glass things should never be left where they might fall
- sharp tools in the garden shed, like nails, saws and axes
- the edges of things like tables, tins or paper - even these can be sharp and give you a nasty cut!

Always be careful if you're touching something sharp or pointy.

Did you know? Electrical blades are very dangerous because they're sharp and they move very quickly.
