

COMMUNITIES: Community Cohesion

Activity 1

Examine some recent newspapers and try to identify an article on an issue concerning equality and diversity that interests you.

Investigate the focus of the article and write a case study summarising it. Remember to make sure you include both sides of the argument and a conclusion about what you think the outcome and next steps might be.

Activity 2

It is important for equality and diversity to be respected in every community. As a result many schools, work places and communities have established a policy of equal opportunities, which protects people from being discriminated against.

Note down five things that a policy of equal opportunities protects against.

Activity 3

Find out information about your school's 'equal opportunities' policy. Think about whether there is anything that you feel needs to be added to it.

Note down three things you would like to add to the equal opportunities policy, and write a letter to your head of year/ headteacher justifying these and showing how they would benefit the school.
