

A Cook

Working Life

Sarah

Sarah works in this Building Society but not with money – with food!

She's a cook! She works in the restaurant, sometimes called a staff canteen.

It's an important job to make sure all the food she prepares is healthy and delicious.

The busy workers need to have tasty lunches to give them energy for their afternoon work!

She's always loved cooking. Sarah's hobby has become her job and she's very happy at work!
