

Working in a financial company

We're looking at different kinds of work found in a big financial company like Nationwide Building Society. 'Financial' means it deals with all sorts of money matters from savings accounts, lending money to buy houses (mortgages) or giving insurances to protect things you love, so you can get the money to buy replacements, if anything happens to them.

But it doesn't mean everyone who works there has to be good at dealing with money but it does help to be good at numbers, whatever your job!

Work can be fun – especially if you do something you are good at, or are really interested in!

There are all sorts of different jobs or careers (future jobs) to choose from in a financial company. These can range from being a cleaner to being the top boss of a company - the Chief Executive Officer (a CEO)!

Here are just a few of the jobs:

- ★ Receptionists
- ★ Security Guards
- ★ Advertising and Marketing Executives
- ★ Computer Operators
- ★ Researchers
- ★ Financial Analysts
- ★ Legal Secretaries
- ★ Counter Assistants
- ★ Telephonists
- ★ and even Cooks!

On the other fact sheets you can take a look at some of these jobs and how the people got them.

Why don't you do your own research and find out about other jobs?

Do you know what you'd like to do when you're grown up?
It's fun to think about something linked with a hobby you enjoy!

Why don't you make a list of all your interests and all the things you're good at - your skills?

