

Be seen whilst crossing

It's often difficult for drivers to see pedestrians at night, so when crossing it's really important to be seen.

- Try to use pedestrian crossings – they are usually well lit.
- Cross where roads are well lit from street lights, this way drivers can see you from a distance.
- In unlit country roads, cross well away from bends; use straight stretches of road so you can see the traffic coming.
- Always wear something white or reflective so drivers can see you – and it's a good idea to carry a torch.